ABSTRACT

Developed to meet baseline and support data needs for affirmative action programs, certification standards, and distribution of Indian educators in schools in South Dakota, the Indian Self-Identified Certified Staff (ISICS) Survey presents data received and compiled during August to November 1980. An analysis of student enrollment information is provided on the 305 schools in South Dakota which include public schools, Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) schools, non-public schools, and special education schools. Significant findings include: 174.5 ISICS account for approximately 1.7% of the 10,449.94 Full Time Employees (FTE) of the 209 schools that responded to the survey; approximately 63% of the ISICS are employed in 14 of the 16 BIA schools; ISICS account for approximately 0.6% of the 9,141 FTE's of the 188 public schools; and the 14,809 Indian students account for 10.45% of the 141,675 students enrolled in the 305 schools. A breakdown of Indian student enrollment indicates: of 128,402 public school students, 10,096 are Indian students; of 3,557 BIA students, 3,438 are Indian students; of 8,619 non-public school students, 1,006 are Indian students; and of 1,097 special education students, 209 are Indian students. SURVEY CONDUCTED BY
EUGENE E. FRACEK
INDIAN EDUCATION DIRECTOR

Purpose: The Indian self-identified certified staff (ISICS) survey was developed to meet baseline and support data needs of such potential areas as affirmative action programs, certification standards, and distribution of Indian educators in schools in South Dakota.

There is not currently available comprehensive data on the number of Indian educators employed in schools in South Dakota.

The survey results were received and compiled between the period August-November of 1980.
